CGC Safety Fun Day

CGC Safety Fun Day is the grand annual event for safety promotion organized by China Geo-Engineering Corporation ("CGC"). We are successfully promoting construction site safety with a Carnival event to the construction industry and public. Numbers of interesting activities related to construction safety are great attraction to the public to participate to our events.

The CGC Safety Fun Day was established in 2013. The Fun Day project team are putting utmost effort to design the games and stage performance to promote construction site safety to the participants.

CGC management team fully support and encourage for creative ideas on safety promotions. In order to reach CGC's core objective "齊人 齊心 齊安全". We are promoting construction site safety throughout monthly

Home Visit Scheme, quarterly Sub-Contractor Safety Gathering and the annually CGC Safety Fun Day. We wish to put everything we can do to enhance the construction safety awareness for the construction industry in Hong Kong.

In order to optimize the effectiveness of the CGC Safety Fun Day, we quantified and analyzed the major data from the questionnaire for the CGC Safety Fun Day. The statistic shows that the total participant are tremendously increase every year since 2013 especially the participants from the workers' family and public categories. More than 75% questionnaire are rated "good" and "very good". We are also considering to adopt the comments given by the participant to further enhance the effectiveness of the CGC Safety Fun Day.

We put our best effort to reinforce the construction site safety awareness for the construction industry in Hong Kong and we will continue but not limit to currently construction site safety promotion. Our Project team is already planning and arranging for the CGC Safety Fun Day in January 2018. We hope to see you there.
